KEYMACRO is a user friendly utility that allows you to record and playback keyboard macros on your computer. A Keyboard Macro is a series of keystrokes. You can define a keyboard macro using an abbreviation like, 'go to','save', 'new file', and so on. A keyboard macro can be set to be performed instantly when you press a key combination like Ctrl + S. This is a very useful tool, especially if you are a frequent user of computers and you are very often logging on the internet or changing your email address or something similar. KEYMACRO allows you to add new macros, edit existing ones and check whether they have been executed by mouse clicks on the corresponding shortcut. Keyboard macros are even compatible with your web browser, including Internet Explorer, Firefox, Chrome, and Opera. This means that you can perform macro actions like, saving a file, opening a web page, opening a new tab, and so on, without the need of using the mouse. EZWeather shows you where and when to go by giving you advance weather forecasts for your entire country. You can easily switch between sunny and cloudy weather, and for most areas, the weather forecast will even show you the chances of rain. This is a must have application for everybody. The weather forecast is very detailed and shows you how the weather will be like all week. The application is very easy to use and very beautiful. Just today, the weather looked to be very bad, but luckily it became clear and sunny. I am very pleased with the application. Highly recommended! #2 by simonm (not verified) on 03/21/2015 I'm a huge fan of the app - I used it regularly before getting a weather station and am still using it for quick, accurate weather forecasting - with the addition of a simple weather station in my garden I can now see how the weather will be for the next 4-5 days in the UK (or whenever I get the station up and running, it's like having a minute-by-minute weather station in your pocket). I really like the graphs, especially for local forecasts. It's not perfect - it's quite slow and it has a weird habit of loading a random forecast for random days of the week at times, but it's fast and easy to use and I'm sure it will pay dividends over the long run. And it's one of the only apps to offer a decent forecast for most of the UK, so it's handy for me as well. Great weather app, I like the information and the graphs, so easy to see what the weather will be like in a few days. #3 by Unknown (not verified) on 04/07/2015 Very easy to use and gives great information. It's free so what's not to like? #4 by Chistopher Everett (not verified) on 04/10/2015 This is by far the best weather app on the app store! I love the graphs and the forecast, and that it's free! I use this all the time! #5 by JGriffith (not verified) on 05/10/2015 This application is very good to have. It's very easy to use and keep updated. #6 by R Kamimura (not verified) on 05/10/2015 Weather forecast is very useful and easy to use. #7 by Sou (not verified) on 05/17/2015 Awesome app. I love how quick and accurate the forecast is. I use it daily. #8 by Heather (not verified) on 05/24/2015 Can't even remember what it's called but it's awesome!
